Students get a discount on rail fares too!

What courses do they offer?

Supported Learning for Life, Independence and Work

This supports and challenges young people with a range of inclusion needs such as learning difficulties, disabilities, and Autism Spectrum. Students are supported by a dedicated team of specialist staff in their own learning environment which has full access to the college campus.

- Each student will be supported to make decisions and develop skills for adult life such as going shopping for food, using public transport, and managing money.
- Each student will achieve a qualification and will have opportunities to take part in enterprise events, a work placement and or voluntary work in the local community.
- Through the combination of practical activities and classroom learning our students will develop their communication and teamwork as well the skills, knowledge, and behaviour which they will need for the world of work.

At the right time, young people are will be supported to think about their future and choices after college.
