Worried about managing over Christmas?

If you are experiencing financial difficulties or have concerns about managing the additional pressures that Christmas can bring, please don't hesitate to contact the Wellbeing Team at school or college. We may be able to offer support or help connect you with local services and resources.
There is absolutely no shame or judgement in asking for help. Any conversations will be treated with sensitivity and confidentiality, and we are here to support you and your family in whatever way we can.
Please contact the Wellbeing Team if you would like to have a chat. We're here to help.

ANGELS DONATE £22K TO WOODLANDS MEED

Following our pitch at Focus Foundation's Angels Den on Monday evening we were awarded £22k by the Angels to expand Inspire cafe and take us into the community! Lots more details and exciting news to come.

A massive thank you to the staff team, FOWM and volunteers in attendance last night your support was amazing.

Awards like these are only possible if you have incredible people in all departments, that make Woodlands Meed amazing!

Remembrance Day Service

On Wednesday 11th November a group of pupils from both school and college site attended the Remembrance Day Service at the Burgess Hill War Memorial, along with Adam to lay a wreath on behalf of Woodlands Meed.

Active 30

Active 30 is a government initiative to help children become fitter and healthier. It directs schools to provide 30 minutes of active time (in addition to playtimes and scheduled PE) each school day. Families are responsible for encouraging their children to become more active for an additional 30 minutes at home. With this in mind, we are supporting families by providing a suggested weekly activity for children to do at home which requires no specialist equipment, but maybe a bit of creativity to deliver it. If you would prefer to do your own activity, that is fine. It is not compulsory, but it would be great for as many students as possible to participate. Please put any photos taken on Seesaw and tag Active Time.

ALL ABOUT BULLYING

HOW TO SUPPORT YOUR CHILD

How can I help my child if they are being bullied?

If your child is being bullied, don't panic. Your key role is listening, keeping calm and providing reassurance that the situation can get better when action is taken.

This is where an understanding of the definition of bullying, relational conflict, group roles and banter will be useful, so that you are able to discuss with your child what they have experienced and consider the best approach.

1. Listen and reassure them that coming to you was the right thing to do. Assure them that the bullying is not their fault and that they have family that will support them.

2. Try and establish the facts. It can be helpful to take notes of what your child says, particularly names, dates, what happened and where it happened. Keep any evidence such as pictures of injuries or screenshots of online messages.

3. Find out what your child wants to happen next. Help to identify the choices open to them; the potential next steps to take; and the skills they may have to help solve the problems.

4. Encourage your child to get involved in activities that build their confidence and esteem, and help them to form friendships both inside and outside of school.

5. Request a meeting to discuss the situation with your child's teacher or Headteacher - or the lead adult wherever the bullying is taking place. Remember, every child has a right to a safe environment in which to learn and play. See page 12 for more detailed information about working with the school or setting to resolve a bullying situation.

ALL ABOUT BULLYING

What if my child has been bullying others?

Children are developing physically, emotionally, and socially and need our help to understand how to behave towards others and when they have crossed a line. For some children it may be particularly difficult to regulate their behaviour or actions, and they may need additional support. Others might be copying prejudicial or harmful behaviour they have learnt from others.

What is important is that we recognise this type of behaviour and endeavour to stop it, and where we have hurt others, learn to take action to put things right, understand the impact of our behaviour, develop new skills and strengthen positive relationships.

If you have been told by others that your child is showing bullying behaviour, it is important to:

1. Stay calm, and ask for examples of the things they have said or done, and the impact this has had on others.
2. Take time to listen to your child's side of the story, keeping an open mind.
3. Remember we are all capable of bullying behaviour: try not to see it as a permanent reflection of their character - but make clear the behaviour you've observed and why you would like to see that change. It may be useful to talk about the group roles to help them reflect on their behaviour (page 7), and some of the activities (page 17) might also help them think about how they could use their voice to Break the Silence in the future.
4. Talk about the impact this has had on others and encourage empathy.
5. Make sure they are not bullying others in retaliation for bullying they have suffered. Help your child to realise that no one has the right to pressure them into something they don't want to do - this includes bullying others.
6. Discuss whether there is anything that has upset or hurt them that might have led to that behaviour.
7. Talk about what needs to change about their behaviour, and the actions they can take to 'put things right'.

Many children who bully others are in a difficult place themselves and will need help to explore how they are feeling, what led to the behaviour, and what needs to change.

We are here to support you in this.

ALL ABOUT BULLYING

3. KEEP A RECORD

It is advisable to keep a record or log of what your child has told you, including notes about the impact the bullying has had on them. Write down your concerns, key questions and desired outcomes before any meeting so you can stay focused and confident. Bullying situations can feel overwhelming, so remember you can take a friend or family member with you to listen, take notes and provide support.

Having someone by your side can be reassuring and help you remember what was discussed. At the meeting, ask for a timeframe for action to take place, and make notes of what you do, the date, to whom you speak and what they say and do.Ensure that any specific actions are written down in a clear plan.

4. INCLUDE YOUR CHILD

It is vital for your child to feel included in any discussions that have happened or actions that have been agreed, even if they aren't present at meetings. Prior to any meetings, ask your child what they would like to happen next, and bring that information to the meeting. If your child isn't present at the meeting, reassure them afterwards of what was discussed, and make sure they are aware of any actions that were agreed and any timeframes. If they are the target of the bullying, they may need to be reminded that what happened to them is not OK, and that they have done the right thing in reporting the bullying. If they are the person bullying others, they may need support in exploring how they are feeling, what led to the behaviour, and what needs to change.

5. CHECK IN

You may be able to tell from your child's behaviour whether the issue has been resolved or if it might be continuing after you have reported it. Check in with your child to find out if they are happy with how things have been resolved, or if they still have any worries. The school or setting may contact you to check in in the months following the incident. If they don't and you are still concerned about your child, you may want to contact them to ensure agreed actions have been completed, and that there have been no further issues.

HOW TO BREAK THE SILENCE AS A FAMILY THIS ANTI-BULLYING WEEK

For this year's Anti-Bullying Week theme, Break the Silence, we focus on the importance of using our voice and the opportunities we have to speak up about bullying, and taking action to stop it.

We encourage you to use Anti-Bullying Week to help your child recognise the role they play in creating change, to stand up for others, and start conversations with family and friends about the ways in which we can Break the Silence on bullying. Use the conversation starters and activities within this pack to get you started!

CONVERSATION STARTERS TO HELP YOU TALK TO YOUR CHILD ABOUT BREAKING THE SILENCE AROUND BULLYING

For younger children

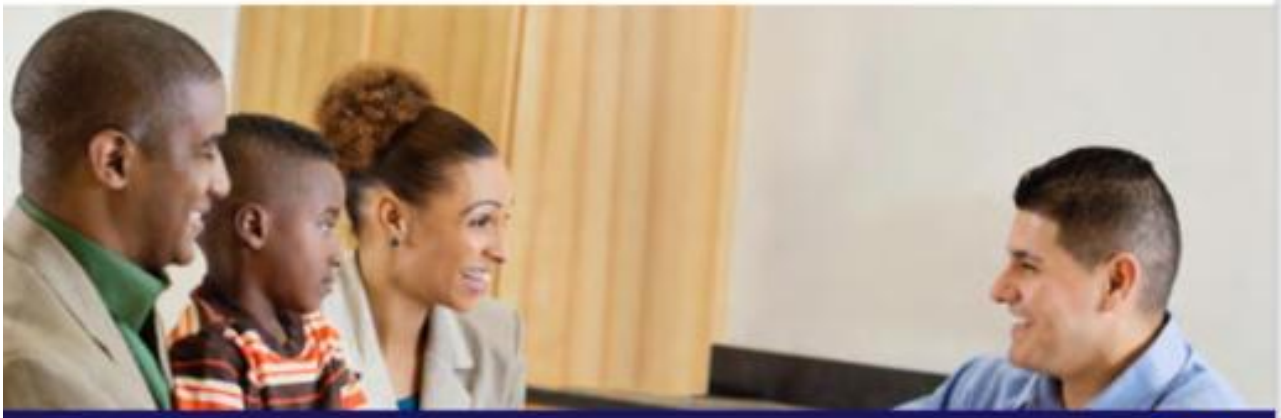

- What do you think makes a good friend?
- How would you describe what bullying is?
- Why do you think some people bully others?
- What does being kind look like?
- Do you think being kind makes you strong? Why?
- Have you ever seen someone being left out? What did/would you do?
- Can you think of some small kind actions that might make others feel good? How might these actions help other people be kind, too?
- If you upset a friend, what could you do to make it right?
- If you saw someone being treated unfairly, what could you do to help?
- Can you think of someone at school / at home / at football club etc who makes others feel included or safe? What do they do that makes a difference?
- If you saw someone being brave and helping a friend, what would you say to them?

© National Children's Bureau - Registered charity No. 258825. Registered in England and Wales No. 952717. Registered office: 23 Mentmore Terrace, London E8 3PN. A Company Limited by Guarantee.

For older children

- What do you think when you hear the word 'bullying'?
- What are the different roles people have in a bullying situation? Does this change if it happens online?
- Do you think silence can make bullying worse? Why or why not?
- Have you ever seen someone being bullied? What do you think made it hard or easy for others to step in and do something?
- What are the qualities you look for in a friend?
- What might be some reasons someone might choose to be unkind or bully others? What might help them to change their behaviour?
- What can make it hard to take action when you see someone being bullied? What could help?
- If you realise you're hurting someone, what can you do to fix it and change your behaviour?
- Do you think being kind can inspire others to be kind too? Why or why not?
- What are some actions or words that show respect in everyday interactions? What about online?
- How would you use your voice or platform if you had more influence—like as a sports team captain or social media influencer?
- When you're in a group, how can you make sure everyone feels like they belong?
- What advice would you give to younger children about bullying?

Did you know that 80% of toys end up in landfill, the ocean or incinerators? When there are already so many toys in circulation, let's use what we already have rather than buying new this Christmas. CREW and Honey House have joined forces to hold The Big Toy Swap at Audio Active on Friday 27th November from 2:00pm-4:30pm.

Bring what you can, take what you need - we would love for you to join us in swapping toys aimed at children aged between 0-10 though if you can't bring anything you are still very welcome. If you have toys that you would like to drop in advance please take them to Norfolk House, South Street, Tarring, West Worthing, BN14 7NL. Please knock to leave donations - if no answer there will be instructions on where to leave in a safe hiding space.

This drop off point is open from 4pm daily on Monday 23rd November through to Thursday 26th November. Kids welcome or come alone to prep for the big day...!

S.E.N Youth Club. 12-18 Years old

Orchard House Youth Club

Thursdays (throughout the year)
6.15 to 8.15 p.m.
£4 weekly fees (+ £1 max for tuck shop)

We run on Thursdays, in Burgess Hill. The group is a perfect way for our youth clubbers (aged 12-18) to gain independence and life skills with their peers, in a safe and supervised environment.

Each week we run a variety of activities across the building (sports, crafts, table top games etc)

Each room is suitably staffed to allow the youth clubbers freedom to enjoy the evening as they choose.

Please note that this is NOT a drop-in session, you must apply and be offered a place before bringing your child along.

We will do all we can to accommodate individual needs so please ask.

First sessions will always be booked as a free taster where the parent/carer can stay.

For members there is a weekly subscription of £4 and a suggested £1 limit to spend in the tuck shop.
